Example 2. Score legend and standard instrument setups for Rebonds A and Rebonds B. Most of these instruments are commonplace; the tumba is the largest drum in the conga family.

Example 3. Five measures in Rebonds A where tempo was measured across the ten recordings.

m.1

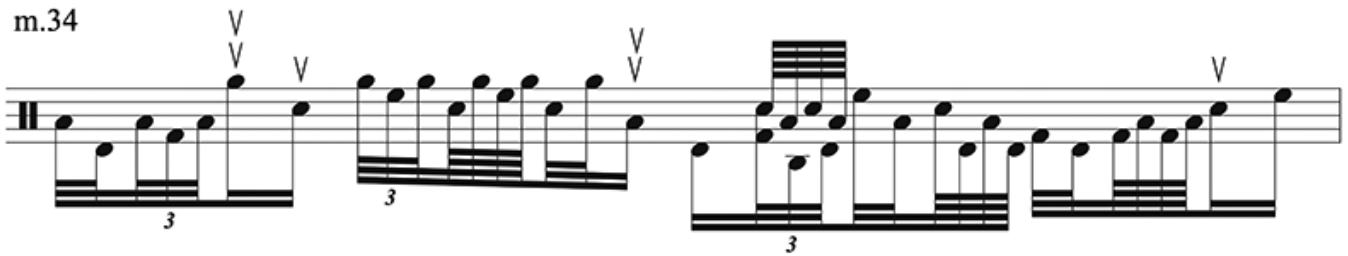

Musical notation for measure 1, showing a single melodic line with four notes, each marked with a 'V' above it. The notes are quarter notes with stems pointing down. The first three notes have a '7' below them, indicating a fingering. The fourth note is a half note.

m.19

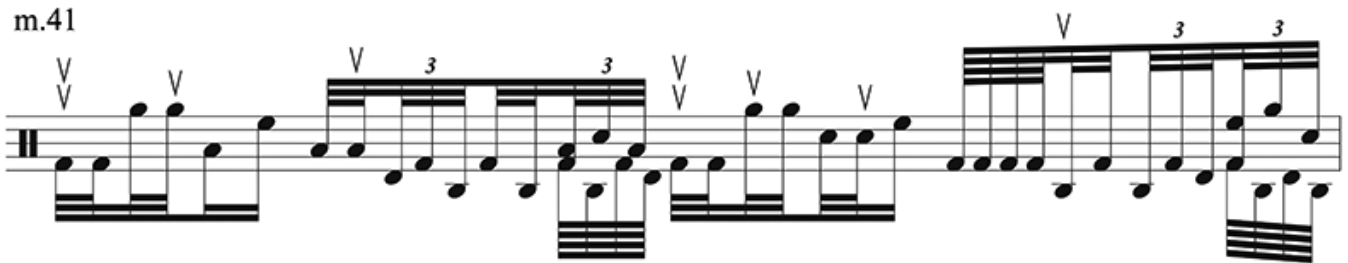

Musical notation for measure 19, showing a single melodic line with four notes. The first two notes are marked with a 'V' and a '3' above them, indicating a triplet. The third note is marked with a 'V'. The fourth note is marked with a '3' above it, indicating a triplet. The notes are quarter notes with stems pointing down.

m.34

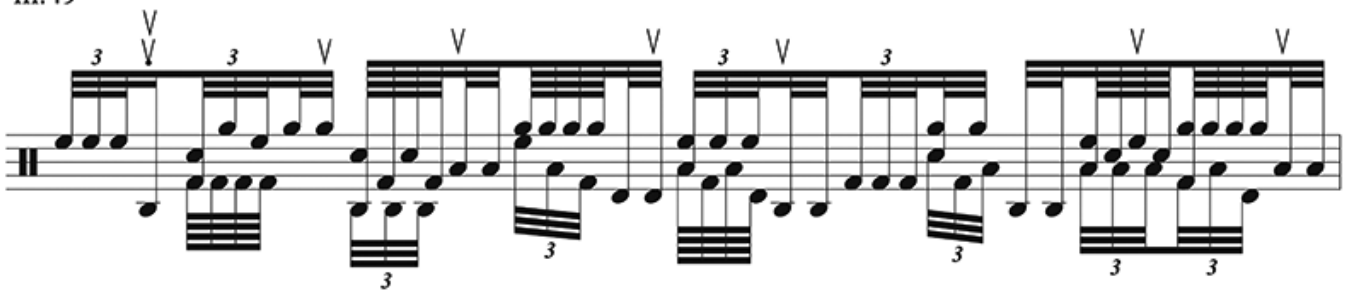

Musical notation for measure 34, showing a single melodic line with four notes. The first two notes are marked with a 'V' and a '3' above them, indicating a triplet. The third note is marked with a 'V'. The fourth note is marked with a 'V'. The notes are quarter notes with stems pointing down.

m.41

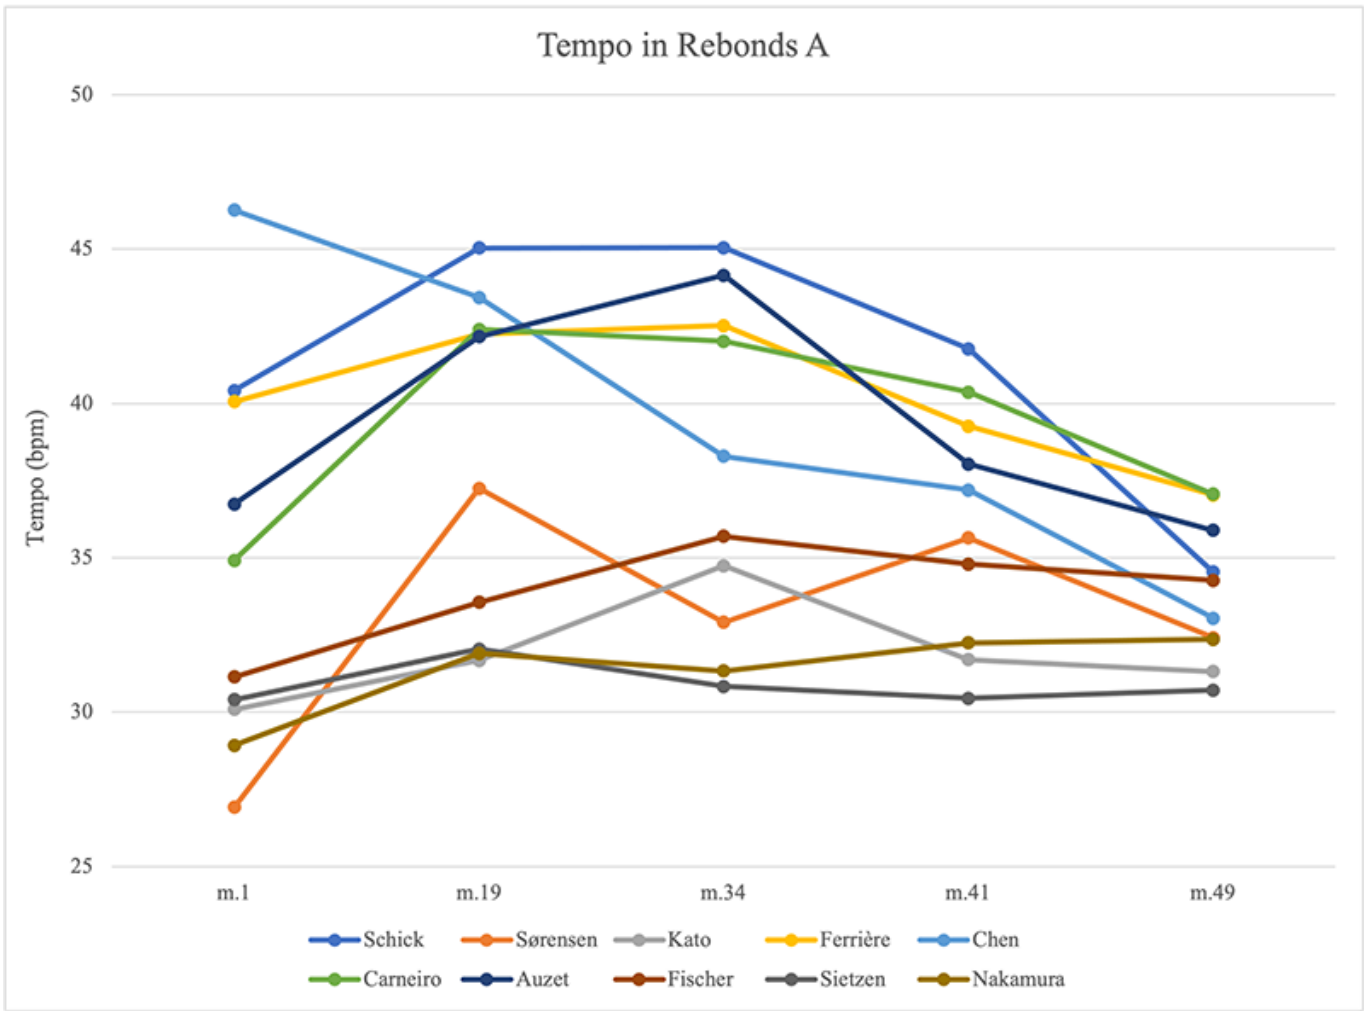

Musical notation for measure 41, showing a single melodic line with four notes. The first two notes are marked with a 'V' and a '3' above them, indicating a triplet. The third note is marked with a 'V'. The fourth note is marked with a 'V'. The notes are quarter notes with stems pointing down.

m.49

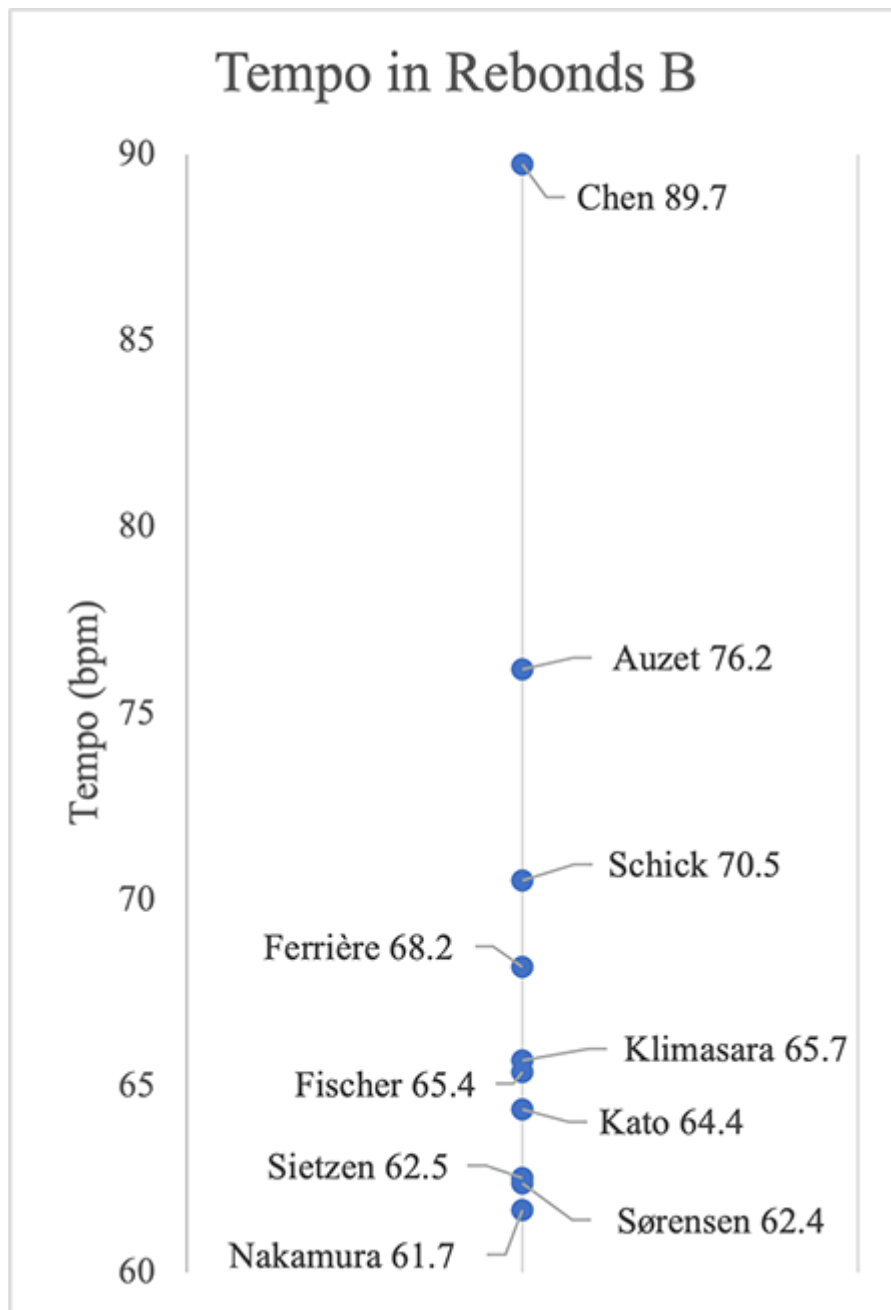

Musical notation for measure 49, showing a single melodic line with four notes. The first two notes are marked with a 'V' and a '3' above them, indicating a triplet. The third note is marked with a 'V'. The fourth note is marked with a 'V'. The notes are quarter notes with stems pointing down.

Example 4. Performance tempi at five locations in Rebonds A. Audio files are included for Hans-Kristian Kjos Sørensen's and Ying-Hsueh Chen's performances of mm. 1–3, and Steven Schick's and Christoph Sietzen's performances at mm. 48–49.

Example 5. Opening performance tempi (in bpm) in Rebonds B. Audio files are included for the fastest (Ying-Hsueh Chen) and slowest (Isao Nakamura) opening performance tempi.

Example 6. Two measures in Rebonds B that are frequently injected with rubato, dramatic deceleration, or fermatas in performance. The linked recordings illustrate the variance with which these passages are interpreted. For m. 65, Marta Klimasara proceeds immediately from the drums to the woods, while Hans-Kristian Kjos Sørensen injects a substantial fermata. For m. 74, Roland Auzet plays the passage in time but includes a short pause between the tremolos and the ensuing rhythmic figure, while Adélaïde Ferrière elongates the tremolos but injects no such pause between the tremolos and 32nd note rhythms.

Example 8. Accent strata in Rebonds A can be seen in m. 41, where double accents anchor the texture at the half-note, while single accents are interspersed more frequently throughout. Johannes Fischer's recording of the passage is included.

The musical score for Example 8, m. 41, is presented on a grand staff with two staves. The notation is dense, featuring a complex rhythmic texture. The upper staff contains several half-note accents (marked with a 'V' above the note) and groups of triplets (marked with a '3' above the notes). The lower staff contains a similar rhythmic pattern, often in a lower register. The overall texture is characterized by the interplay of these accents and triplets, creating a rich, layered sound.

Example 9. Rebonds A, m. 49. Pedro Carneiro's and Hans-Kristian Kjos Sørensen's recordings of this passage are included.

m.49

The musical score for Example 9, m. 49, is presented on a grand staff with two staves. The notation is dense, featuring a complex rhythmic texture. The upper staff contains several half-note accents (marked with a 'V' above the note) and groups of triplets (marked with a '3' above the notes). The lower staff contains a similar rhythmic pattern, often in a lower register. The overall texture is characterized by the interplay of these accents and triplets, creating a rich, layered sound.

Auzet Carneiro Ferrière Fischer Sørensen

This block contains the musical notation for five names: Auzet, Carneiro, Ferrière, Fischer, and Sørensen. Each name is positioned above a five-measure staff. The notation is split into two systems: a treble clef system on top and a bass clef system on the bottom. The treble clef system shows the upper notes of chords, while the bass clef system shows the lower notes. The names are: Auzet (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2), Carneiro (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2), Ferrière (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3), Fischer (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3, D3), and Sørensen (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3, D3, E3).

Kato Nakamura Schick Sietzen Chen

This block contains the musical notation for five names: Kato, Nakamura, Schick, Sietzen, and Chen. Each name is positioned above a five-measure staff. The notation is split into two systems: a treble clef system on top and a bass clef system on the bottom. The names are: Kato (treble: G#4, A4; bass: G2, A2), Nakamura (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2), Schick (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3), Sietzen (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3, D3), and Chen (treble: G4, A4; bass: G2, A2, B2, C3, D3, E3).

Example 11. Rebonds A, m. 30, first as it appears in the score, and then as it sounds in three performances (with accompanying audio files), re-notated according to the tuning schemes used in each performance

m.30

Musical notation for m.30, showing a sequence of notes with fingerings (3, 5, 3, 3) and breath marks (V).

Kato

Musical notation for Kato's performance, showing a sequence of notes with fingerings (3, 5, 3, 3) and breath marks (V).

Carneiro

Musical notation for Carneiro's performance, showing a sequence of notes with fingerings (3, 5, 3, 3) and breath marks (V).

Auzet

Musical notation for Auzet's performance, showing a sequence of notes with fingerings (3, 5, 3, 3) and breath marks (V).

Example 12. Rebonds A, m. 33 Pedro Carneiro’s and Christoph Sietzen’s performances of this passage are included. (Sound files begin slightly before the printed excerpt.)

m. 33

Example 13. General grouping structure for Rebonds A, mm. 40–45, along with a representative measure (m. 41). The contour of the “repeated rhythms” group is unfixed, but most commonly conforms to the illustration shown here. Hans-Kristian Kjos Sørensen’s performance of this measure (and the passage immediately following) is included.

Example 14. Durations for each of the five drum attacks in the five-note cycle at the opening of Rebonds B. The cycle begins with the tom tom (abbreviated as tom), and proceeds through the bass drum (BD), bongo, tumba, and again bass drum. Across the first six measures, nine iterations of this cycle occur. Values below each drum indicate the time, in sixteenth notes, between that drum's attack and the next attack in the cycle.

Cycle	Measure	Tom	BD (1)	Bongo	Tumba	BD (2)
1	1	6	2	3	2	1
2	1	6	2	3	2	1
3	2	5	3	3	2	1
4	2	6	2	3	2	1

Example 15. Rebonds B, mm. 1–2. The two-stroke ruff is boxed in red, and recurs throughout this excerpt and the ensuing musical material.

mm. 1–2

Example 16. Two-stroke ruff pattern common to the opening of Rebonds B. The central challenge to performing this figure involves playing both the ruff properly and reaching the two drums in the double stop immediately following the ruff. A number of possible interpretations are shown here, all for the same excerpt.

Example 17. Excerpt of Rebonds B, mm. 68–80, where the ruff-infused sixteenth-note pulse and the tremolo finally meet in Rebonds B. Below the notated transcription of m.69 is a re-notated version according to how Marta Klimasara interprets it. Audio files for Adélaïde Ferrière’s and Klimasara’s performances are included.

Example 18. Two techniques that can be used to perform the excerpt in Example 17 as written. These are both techniques that, although not commonly called for in percussion playing, are nonetheless well known to percussionists, especially those of the caliber included in this study.
